

Core Java Project

1. As a Human it is very common to face medical emergencies in life. Create an application to facilitate the functionality for the patient to book an appointment with a doctor and maintain details about patient and hospital. Doctor to maintain all patient information.(The agenda of application is to replicate Hospital management and you can implement your own idea in your own way).

Note:-Those who could not complete we will share the sample example solution code with you. However, try finishing on your own with the core java knowledge you have.

